

High Definition Transcranial Direct Current Stimulation (HD-tDCS) for Refractory Epilepsy

NCT06241963

Status	RECRUITING
Phase	Not Applicable
Sponsor	Anhui Medical University
Enrollment	90 participants

Key Eligibility Criteria

Inclusion (4)

- Clinical diagnosis of refractory epilepsy
- Right-handed and aged 18-50 years old and primary school education or above;
- No major neurological or mental illness, no head injury, alcohol dependence or drug dependence;
- During the experiment, the subjects did not smoke, drink, get sick and take psychotropic drugs, and there were no major life events that caused mood changes.

Exclusion (3)

- organic brain injury, neurological diseases or serious physical diseases;
- Have a history of substance abuse and drug dependence, or have used antipsychotic drugs in the past three months, and have serious suicidal tendencies;
- There are contraindications for MRI or EEG or transcranial magnetic stimulation.

Locations (1 total)

Anhui Medical University, Hefei, Anhui, China