

Efficacy and Safety of Chinese Herb Medicine-Moxibustion Therapy on Chemotherapy-Induced Leukopenia

NCT06262542

Status	RECRUITING
Phase	Not Applicable
Sponsor	Taichung Armed Forces General Hospital
Enrollment	60 participants

Key Eligibility Criteria

Inclusion (3)

- Patients diagnosed with cancer by Western medicine doctors.
- regardless of cancer type, gender.
- aged 20 or above, experiencing WBC $< 3000/\mu\text{L}$ or ANC $< 1500/\mu\text{L}$ for the first time after starting chemotherapy.

Exclusion (5)

- Patients not suitable for moxibustion, including those with wounds at moxibustion points.
- Patients who refuse to sign the consent form.
- Minors, pregnant women, individuals with mental illnesses, those vulnerable to harm, or in disadvantaged groups.
- Patients with leukemia, where the disease itself affects changes in blood cells.
- Patients currently receiving other forms of Traditional Chinese Medicine treatment or alternative therapies that may increase white blood cell counts.

Locations (1 total)

Taichung Armed Force General Hospital, Taichung, Taiping, Taiwan