

Effects of QUANTUM Probe for Skin Rejuvenation and Subdermal Retraction in Patients Undergoing High-Definition Liposculpture

NCT06958978

Status	RECRUITING
Phase	Not Applicable
Sponsor	Total Definer Research Group
Enrollment	80 participants

Key Eligibility Criteria

Inclusion (2)

- Patients undergoing body contouring procedures (liposuction or liposculpture), either individually or combined with a maximum of two other major aesthetic procedures involving face, breast, or dermolipectomy.
- Healthy patients without underlying comorbidities (classified as ASAII)

Exclusion (5)

- Pregnant patients, patients planning to get pregnant, or in breastfeeding stage
- Past medical history of any collagen disease or autoimmune conditions, including lupus, scleroderma, connective tissue disorders, rheumatoid arthritis, or multiple sclerosis.
- Past medical history of skin disease including active skin infections, dermatitis, or history of keloid formation.
- Patient with any metal implants or pacemakers
- BMI ≥ 32 kg/m².

Locations (1 total)

Dhara clinic, Bogotá, DC, Colombia