

Assessment of Oral Caffeine Intake in Changing the Severity of Acute Migraine Attack Using VAS Score Among Patients Attending Headache and Neurology Outpatients Clinic of Ainshams University Hospitals

NCT07022496

Status	RECRUITING
Phase	Phase 4
Sponsor	Ain Shams University
Enrollment	120 participants

Key Eligibility Criteria

Inclusion (1)

- Patients suffering from migraine with aura, migraine without aura, episodic, and chronic migraine according to ICHD-3 diagnosis will be legible for the study.

Exclusion (1)

- Patients who have history of any cardiac dysrhythmia, hypertension, ischemic heart disease, active peptic ulcer disease, inflammatory bowel disease, obsessive compulsive disorder, pregnancy, breast-feeding, renal failure, hepatic failure, sleep disorder, mental retardation, and history of substance abuse that prevent them from cooperating with us during the study Patients who had headache due to: Cluster headache, trigeminal neuralgia, glossopharyngeal neuralgia, headache secondary to trauma, cranial disorder, vascular disorder, infection, or mass lesion, will also be excluded

Locations (1 total)

Ainshams university, Cairo, Egypt