

Continuous vs. Bolus Administration of NSAIDs After Laparoscopic Surgery for Multimodal Analgesia

NCT07070050

---

Status	RECRUITING
Phase	Phase 4
Sponsor	Federal Research and Clinical Centre of Intensive Care Medicine and Rehabilitology
Enrollment	100 participants

Key Eligibility Criteria

---

Inclusion (5)

- Age  $\geq$  18 years old
- Elective laparoscopic surgery
- General anesthesia
- Signed informed consent from the patient to participate in the study
- RASS scale from -2 to +1 on admission to a surgical department or ICU

Exclusion (8)

- History of ibuprofen allergy
- Active erosive or ulcerative lesions of the gastrointestinal tract
- Chronic use of opioid analgesics or NSAIDs prior to enrollment
- Chronic kidney disease e 3b stage according to the KDIGO classification
- Liver dysfunction (three times exceeding the upper reference limit of ALT or AST)
- ... and 3 more (see full listing online)

Locations (1 total)

---

City Clinical Hospital named after S.S. Yudin, Moscow, Moscow Oblast, Russia