

Comparative Evaluation of the Effects of Calcium Hydroxide and BIO-C Temp Medicaments on Postoperative Pain in Patients Undergoing Endodontic Treatment: a Clinical Study

NCT07396688

Status	RECRUITING
Phase	Not Applicable
Sponsor	Ankara University
Enrollment	60 participants

Key Eligibility Criteria

Inclusion (3)

- Patients with single-rooted teeth requiring endodontic retreatment.
- Individuals in good general health, classified as ASA Physical Status I.
- Teeth presenting normal anatomical structure and root morphology.

Exclusion (5)

- Patients who have used antibiotics or analgesic medications within the last month.
- Pregnant individuals and patients with systemic diseases (such as chronic illnesses, diabetes mellitus, hypertension).
- Teeth with root fractures or perforations.
- Teeth with complex root canal anatomy, multirrooted teeth, or severely curved roots.
- Patients presenting with high baseline pain levels, particularly those with a history of treatment-resistant pain.

Locations (2 total)

Ankara University Faculty of Dentistry, Ankara, Ankara, Turkey (Türkiye)
Ankara University Faculty of Dentistry, Ankara, Ankara, Turkey (Türkiye)