

Comparison Of Clinical Outcomes of Intraperitoneal Bupivacaine Instillation Versus Placebo as Preemptive Analgesia in Patients Undergoing Open Appendectomy

NCT07429448

Status	RECRUITING
Phase	Phase 1
Sponsor	Sardar Umer Rehman
Enrollment	60 participants

Key Eligibility Criteria

Inclusion (1)

- Patients presenting to the emergency department undergoing open appendectomy.

Exclusion (8)

- Patients undergoing interval appendectomy or having perforated appendix as evident by examination (abdominal tenderness/fever) and USG findings (presence of abscess, fluid collection, or free air).
- Uncontrolled medical disease (DM: BSL \gt 200mg/dl, HTN: BP \gt 140/90)
- History of chronic kidney or liver disease/ psychiatric illness/ Active peptic ulcer disease (as determined on history and medical records)
- Alcoholics
- History of chronic pain or patients on analgesic medications
- ... and 3 more (see full listing online)

Locations (1 total)

Services Institute of Medical Sciences/ Services Hospital Lahore, Lahore, Punjab Province, Pakistan